

ARMISTICE TERMS PLACE HUN ARMY IN SPECIAL ZONE

SURRENDER OF HELGOLAND FORTRESS ALSO A DEMAND

Supreme War Council Soon To Make Known Terms on Which Germans Can Have Peace—Courtesy Among Nations Keeps Armistice.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The supreme war council at Versailles it was learned today thru diplomatic channels has under consideration the starting point in framing terms of an armistice, proposals that Germany be required to withdraw her armies without their military supplies or the loot being carried from France and Belgium to a zone thirty miles to the German side of the Rhine and that the entire German navy including submarines and the Helgoland fortress be surrendered.

It is possible that the conditions when finally agreed upon may not emerge from the council in exactly this degree, but it is believed they will be no less potent for preserving the military supremacy of the allies and at the same time after propositions which the Germans may accept without further fighting. The same information coming thru the same source indicates that the armistice terms as finally agreed upon may be made known to the world Monday or Tuesday and that they will be presented to Germany for acceptance in their entirety or not at all, without opportunity for quibbling or trading.

Tantamount to Surrender.

From a military point of view, the proposal that German armies be disarmed and retired thirty miles beyond the Rhine is classed only as tantamount to an absolute surrender. It would not only throw open to the allied and American armies many roads to Berlin itself but with the surrender of railway rolling stock deprive them of means to retrace their steps or fight if they would.

There is some question among military observers as to whether such complete terms are really necessary. Undoubtedly the object sought in proposing that the enemy retire thirty miles behind the Rhine is to destroy the German inner-defense system. That system is supported by a chain of fortresses without which the line would be untenable and some military experts believe it may not be necessary to go farther than to demand the surrender or dismantling of these forts.

The military discussion developed by the proposals brings a suggestion that a wide zone might be established within the borders of Germany from which the armed forces on both sides might be withdrawn until peace treaties finally have fixed new boundaries.

The French and Belgian frontiers are expected to be re-occupied by the allied armies but it might develop that as the German forces would be required to fall back the German frontier provinces might be left unoccupied in a military sense.

It seems considered certain to military experts here however, that the terms will include the surrender of the Metz fortifications and such of the Rhine fortresses as will clear the way for military invasion of Germany to an extent making resistance futile.

President Wilson continued to keep in close touch with the war council at Versailles thru his personal representative, Colonel House. No one in Washington outside of the inner official circle knows the exact extent of Colonel House's powers, but they are believed to be large, altho it is believed they do not go to the extent of authorizing the conclusion of any binding agreement for an armistice or peace without the president's approval.

Conference Details Necessarily Withheld.

It has been deemed inadvisable to disclose what is going on at Versailles, certainly not while the proceedings are still under way and before the various views of the delegates have crystallized into ultimate terms to be offered to Germany. Aside from the danger from an open discussion while questions are still unsettled, it is regarded as discourteous between nations for one of the parties to the conference to make any disclosures until an agreement has been reached. It is even probable that this rule will govern until the terms have been presented to Germany.

In some quarters there is a disposition to turn to the Turkish armistice as affording a very likely precedent in its general principles to the demands to be made upon Germany tho there would of necessity be great variations in the details owing to the different conditions.

AMERICAN UNIT SCORES IN HARD FIGHTING

ENCOUNTER NET WORK OF BARBED WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS.

Advance Most Difficult These Hardened Troops Have Experienced—Attack Begun Just Before Dawn—Wood Taken After Fierce Fighting.

With the Allied Forces in Flanders, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—The fighting which one American detachment encountered yesterday at Spitaalsboschen wood, southeast of Waereghem in Belgium was probably the hardest it has experienced in France. This unit of westerners had come from a section of the line where it had seen some bitter engagements but the major who was leading a battalion which was outflanking the wood on the north, and who was wounded, told The Associated Press that the early stages of the battle yesterday were heavier than anything his men had been thru. This forest which covers a considerable tract was literally a net work of barbed wire entanglements among which there were great numbers of machine gun nests dominating the American line in front.

Germans Expected Attack. The Germans evidently had been expecting an attack for as soon as the drive began many of the little houses along the line sprang into flames set by the Boche and the whole district was brilliantly lighted.

The attack was begun in the darkest hour before dawn and by firing these homes, the Germans threw the advancing troops out in bold relief which enabled the machine gunners to operate freely. At the same time the German artillery set down a terrific barrage which continued for hours. Straight thru this blaze of light the work of clearing out the machine gun posts was made on the wood but an outflanking operation was started on either side. Into the advancing forces rapid fire poured a vicious fire from concealed positions in the woods. Every farm house and hay stack along the way contained its machine gun which was chattering madly. Each of these had to be surrounded and subdued in turn as the Americans moved forward. Many civilians in district. Very few civilians had left this district. The farmers and their families were still living in houses the Germans had seized for machine gun posts, and while the Germans were sending streams of bullets from the upper windows and loopholes in the lofts, the people were down below in terror. Every precaution was taken by the Americans to spare these unfortunate people. The houses were surrounded and the Germans taken prisoner or killed. The wood was taken after several hours of fierce fighting and all the Germans cleaned out. As the day progressed the going became easier, but this American division will never forget the first hour of that battle.

WAR SUMMARY

News of Activities on Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

(By The Associated Press.)—Over the plains of Venetia and into the mountain valleys of the Trentino the Italian and allied pursuit of the demoralized Austro-Hungarians goes on unabated. In France the German defenses are shaking under the assaults of the British, French and Americans. West of the Meuse the enemy is retiring before the Americans.

Austrian emissaries have been given the armistice terms of the allies and have returned to their own lines, where the Austrian command has them under consideration. Meanwhile an Italian naval contingent has raided the great base of Pola, while allied warships are on their way to Trieste to take command of a situation made serious by fleeing Austrian soldiers. The allied ministers and delegates continue their deliberations over the German armistice terms.

From west of Asiago to the Piave the Italians are pressing into the important valleys leading to Trent and are well beyond the old Austrian frontier northeast of Asiago. West of the Piave the Italians have forced their way into the Nos Valley leading toward Grigno, while further east they have penetrated into the important Sugany valley the main pathway of the Austrians retreating from the Italian mountain zone. In the Belluno area the Italians have crossed the Piave near Busche and northeast of Belluno are pushing up the Cordevole Valley toward Longorone.

On the Venetian plains Italians cavalry have crossed the Cellina-Meduna river six miles east of the Tagliamento and are racing to reach the crossings of that river. In their advance the cavalry overcame strong Austrian resistance in the region of Pordenone and northward. Further south the third army continues its pressure on the front immediately north of the Adriatic. More than 80,000 Austrian prisoners and more than 1500 guns already have been counted by the armies under General Diaz.

Marshal Foch continues to smash the German defenses on vital sectors of the western front. On the north Valenciennes has been taken by the Canadians and the bitterly contested town is now behind the British advancing toward the Franco-Belgian border. North of Valenciennes the British have Tournai within their grasp while to the south the German position at LeQuesnoy is most serious.

The capture of Valenciennes and the strong positions around it, military observers have pointed out probably will compel the Germans to carry out a withdrawal movement on a large scale north and south. The line of the Scheldt has been turned by the success around Valenciennes, and Maubeuge and Mons are threatened by the outflanking of the natural barrier of the Mormal forest. In Belgium the British, French and Americans continue the operations looking to the outflanking of Ghent.

West of the Meuse the American first army and the French fourth army are following up successes of Friday. German resistance before the Americans collapsed Friday afternoon, and the Americans reached Fosse, an advance of more than four miles from the positions Friday night. The enemy is now behind the Freya position and the Americans are pressing them hard. In front of the French the Germans apparently are retiring from the salient of the Boulst forest.

November 3rd is the first anniversary of the clash between American and German troops along the Rhine-Marne canal. On Nov. 3, 1917, American and German patrols met for the first time and the enemy was worsted. Milan, Friday, Nov. 1.—Commander Mouzo, chief of staff of the 150th Italian aerial division and one of the best known aviators in Italy's army, was severely wounded in the fighting along the Piave.

BOTH PARTIES CLAIM VICTORY

Campaign Leaders on Both Side Confident of Success at Poll Tuesday.

11TH HOUR ACTIVITY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Victory in Tuesday's congressional elections was claimed tonight in statements issued by Democratic and Republican campaign leaders. Homer S. Cummings, acting chairman of the Democratic national committee predicted that the Democratic majority in the senate would be increased by the vote to be taken in forty senatorial contests and that the Democrats would make gains in the houses of from thirty to sixty members. Republicans will control the next house by a majority of 25 members. Representative Fess of Ohio, chairman of the National Republican Congressional committee tonight declared. While no formal statement was issued by the Republicans as to senatorial contests leaders of the party predicted that the next senate would be Republican by a margin. In his analysis of the political situation, Chairman Fess said 230 congressional districts are "safely" Republican; 172 are "safely" Democratic and 33 are doubtful.

Republicans Gain in Ohio. The most noticeable gains claimed by the Republican chairman are from Ohio. Twelve states with thirty seats are claimed as solid Republican by Chairman Fess as follows: Delaware, Idaho, Iowa, Maine, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Vermont, Washington and Wyoming. Seven states all in the south with an aggregate of 64 members of congress are conceded by Representative Fess to be Democratic.

Torchlight Parades Absent. Chicago, Nov. 2.—Torchlight parades and brass bands, typical of old-fashioned political campaigns were absent tonight in the central states which virtually closed their campaign activities with the two major parties confident of victory in the salient contests for seats in congress at Tuesday's election.

From Ohio to Nebraska and from Canada to the Gulf the unique campaigns in many sections conducted thru newspapers and billboards instead of the usual speechmaking, flared into eleventh hour activity only thru President Wilson's plea for a Democratic congress. Of the senatorial contests in Illinois, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky and Michigan, perhaps the Michigan battle between Henry Ford, choice of President Wilson and Truman H. Newberry, Republican, attracts greatest public interest. In Illinois Medill McCormack's Republican support planned a lively windup of the fight for Senator Lewis' seat. Political lines are tightly drawn in most congressional contests. Democrats have made a talking point of President Wilson's recent statement while Republicans declare his action aided their cause. Several contests have centered on war records of incumbents.

Non-Partisan League Active. While the chief contests in central states electing full state tickets have been between Democrats and Republicans activities of the non-partisan league have been outstanding features in four states. In North Dakota, league candidates seek all state offices, congress, and threaten complete control of the legislature; in Minnesota the league's "farmer-labor" candidates seek the governorship and Congressmen Miller's seat. In South Dakota a battle is on for state control and in Nebraska support is accorded chosen candidates.

Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Wisconsin, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas will elect full state tickets. In Ohio and Missouri statewide prohibition are paramount issues. While central states women will take a less active part in the election than western women, equal suffrage will be voted upon in South Dakota, Oklahoma and Michigan.

TWELVE INDICTED IN AIRCRAFT SCANDAL

CROWDER ISSUES NOVEMBER CALLS FOR 290,773 MEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Draft calls for the mobilization of 290,773 additional men at army training camps before Nov. 21 were announced tonight by Provost Marshal General Crowder. Between Nov. 11 and 15, it was announced 253,335 white men physically qualified for general military service will entrain making the largest single call issued under the selective service act. The remainder of the November total so far as announced will be made up of negroes for entrainment Nov. 19 to 21.

With the assembling of the men provided in these calls at camp the total number of men inducted into military service under the draft will have passed the 3,000,000 mark and the number of men in the United States army in the field or training will total more than 4,000,000.

Men who registered Sept. 12 under the act extending draft age limits will make up the largest proportion of the November mobilization as the eligible list remaining from previous registrations largely was exhausted by the October calls. The October calls were suspended because of the influenza epidemic nearly all have been reissued during the last three weeks. In states where the calls have not been reissued men called for camp in October will leave with the men called for this month. Calls for additional men to entrain later this month are in preparation it was said today at the office of the provost marshal general.

Illinois, Iowa and Michigan men will entrain as follows: Illinois—2500 Camp Greenleaf, Illinois—10,000, Camp MacArthur, Texas. Illinois—2,395, Camp Wadsworth. Illinois—1,500, Camp Forest, Ga. Iowa—2,500, Camp Greenleaf, Iowa—4,434, Camp Dodge, Iowa. Iowa—1,400, Fort Arthur, Cal. Illinois will also send 455 colored troops to Camp Grant, Ill.

MUST CONVERT LIBERTY BONDS BEFORE NOV. 9

Statement By Secy. McAdoo Indicates Reason for Calling Special Attention of Public to These Bond Facts

Washington, Nov. 2.—Owners of first liberty bonds converted and second liberty bonds bearing four per cent who wish to exchange them for bonds bearing 4 1/2 per cent must do so before next Saturday, Nov. 9, when the conversion privilege by law expires. This call is made without cost at any bank and the only fee is to give the bondholder an extra quarter of a per cent interest which amounts to 2 1/2¢ a year on each $100 bond. Third loan bonds are not to be converted because they already bear 4 1/2 per cent.

In calling attention to the fact that only a week remains in the conversion period a statement authorized today by Secretary McAdoo said:

"It is safe to assume that upon the expiration of the conversion privilege that fact will reflect unfavorably in the market price of unconverted 4 per cent bonds which have heretofore been maintained substantially on a parity with the converted 4 1/2 bonds by the conversion privilege of conversion. The treasury now asks the newspapers, the United States bankers, brokers and others to do what they can to bring these facts before the attention of the bond holders."

Secretary McAdoo has received a telegram from General Pershing saying:

"All ranks of the American Expeditionary Forces are delighted at the success of the fourth liberty loan. We are gratified to learn anew of the splendid determination of the American people to back the army to the limit as exemplified in the large over-subscription. Please accept our sincere thanks and congratulations."

BANK ROBBERS IN SENSATIONAL ACT

Kewanee, Ill., Nov. 2.—Citizens who attempted to interrupt a bank robbery at Bishopville, 18 miles west of here, early today were herded into a public park and held at bay with revolvers. The robbers blew open the vault of the bank of Bishopville and took $2,000 in cash and also the contents of several individual safety deposit boxes. They escaped in automobiles.

HUN MUST ADMIT THEIR DEFEAT

French High Commissioner to U. S. Declares This Confession Would End War

RESULT MUST BE FINAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—In answering the terms of armistice to be submitted by the Allies and the United States the Germans "must say whether they confess that they are beaten," Andre Tardieu, French high commissioner to the United States declared in a statement issued tonight.

"Should they confess it," said Commissioner Tardieu the war will end and thru the acceptance of our conditions. Should they not we shall enforce that acceptance by means of a last resort, the outcome of which cannot be doubtful."

The armistice now being framed by the supreme war council at Versailles, M. Tardieu said would "in his opinion include everything it ought to include."

Questions Clearly Stated. "All questions will be stated with the necessary clearness," he said. "In order to state them in that way, no better position in the opinion of our government could have been found than the one created for the Allies by the diplomatic correspondence of the last three weeks."

American troops said M. Tardieu who returned this week from France and from a visit to the western front, have brought to the understanding of Germany "already doomed by our resistance the realization that the down fall was unavoidable and would be a speedy one."

Speaking of the allied success M. Tardieu said he wished to bring out two points which have not been sufficiently emphasized as yet.

More Reserves Than Enemy. "First," he said "we have henceforth and we shall have—and more and more so—in reserve more men than the enemy and the decision of the battles belongs as you know, to the reserves."

"Second," the German army roughly dealt with by each every single day for three months and a half cannot recognize itself, even by shortening its front and it is being steadily weakened by a deficiency in munitions and in numbers."

Victory Must Be Complete. "Thus our diplomatic position has brought to completion the work of our armies by compelling our adversaries to acknowledge what the president so aptly called 'the military supremacy of the Allies.'"

"The frame of mind of the Allied troops may be expressed in one word—they are ready to fight till victory be complete. They want this victory to be complete."

"But they are pleased. Likewise that every guarantee having been taken against the German rise and deceit no chance has been neglected of insuring by a safe peace the victory of right."

"In short everything which statesmanship, crowning the success of our arms could have done in order to hasten the decision 'has been done and well done.'"

RED CROSS RATIONS DELIVERED BY AIRMEN

Washington, Nov. 2.—American aviators now are delivering Red Cross emergency rations to American soldiers in the front lines who are pursuing the enemy at such a rapid pace that they have outdistanced the army supply wagons. A dispatch today from France to the Red Cross said by flying low the aviators are enabled to drop packages and newspapers at points where the soldiers are certain to get them.

AMERICANS BREAK THRU STRONG ENEMY DEFENSE

TOWN OF FOSSE CAPTURED BY GIL PERSHING'S FORCES.

Drive Means Gain of Seven Miles and Occupation of Territory Germans Counted Impregnable—Advantage Quickly Followed by Victorious Troops.

BULLETIN.

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Nov. 2.—(By The Associated Press)—7 p. m.—General Pershing's forces continued their attack in the region west of the Meuse this afternoon and captured Fosse. This represents an advance of four miles from the starting line thru Bayonville.

The Germans gave little if any indication of an impending retreat until this afternoon. All morning long the Americans on every part of the front had met with stubborn resistance.

BULLETIN.

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Nov. 2.—The German forces are giving way before the pressure directed against them by the Americans. The Germans tonight have retired so rapidly at some points that the Americans have experienced difficulty in maintaining contact with the enemy.

BULLETIN

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Nov. 2.—At 5 o'clock this evening the American advance west of the Meuse had progressed to a line north of Bois des Loges; northward to west of Theonorgues; north northwest of Buzancy to Fosse; northeast of Nouart; thence to Villers-Devant-Dun to one kilometer north of Douillon to the Meuse; thence following the Meuse.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Nov. 2.—To the north of the advancing Americans who have broken thru the Germans' strongest lines of resistance, including the Freya position which was shattered Saturday lies the so-called Meuse line—the enemy's last stronghold in this part of France. The line in general follows the military crests and railroads eastward from Hirson to Mezieres, Sedan, Mouzon, Montmedy and Longuyon and then south of the Etain. The railroad junctions in the regions of Montmedy and Longuyon are already under fire of the American big guns. It is not believed the Germans have an organized system of defenses between the American front and this Meuse line as they had the greatest confidence that the Freya, Kreinhilde and other lines could hold in spite of any attacks designed to break them. The so-called Meuse line has the advantage of important railroad junctions connecting it with the main lines direct from Germany by several routes.

Many Cannon Captured. With The American Army Northwest of Verdun, Nov. 2.—8 p. m.—More than sixty cannon, scores of 77s, dozens of 150s, numerous howitzers of various calibers and hundreds of machine guns were captured by the Americans during the advance of Friday and Saturday. Vast quantities of ammunition and war material of all kinds fell into their hands.

The opposition was especially determined on the left and right and the American center had pushed forward considerably further than had either wing. Tho the center had intended to continue and to attain its day's objectives it was apparent there would soon have to be a pause if the troops were not to be flanked.

So certain the military commanders were that the Germans would not break that the chief of staff of the troops in the center belittled the report arriving about two o'clock that the town of Fosse had been taken.

One hour later however, reports began to come thick and fast. The first showed that resistance against the American left had unaccountably ceased. Then came reports indicating that the right wing was moving forward at marvelous speed.

Hun Resistance Melts Away.

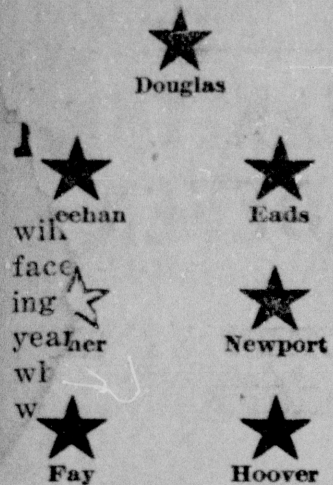

The first intimation that the enemy was retreating came from the fourth French army which was advancing to the northeast. Within a short time various American units from all parts of the line announced that they also were advancing and were finding the resistance, which was so marked all morning, melting away on the right. Even troops in motor trucks had not been able to catch up with the enemy.

The Americans were not slow in following the advantage on the left wing which had met with the most serious resistance and began to press forward immediately in the Bois des Loges on the heels of the Germans clearing up all who lagged behind. They pushed their line northward for nearly a mile. Champaigneulle, a strong point in the Freya defense line had been taken earlier in the day and the troops who had rushed it pressed forward and thru Verpel, after partially surrounding the town. Thru rain and mud the Americans advanced toward Theonorgues. Little resistance was met when the village was entered. Troops further to the right of their victorious march and fought their way beyond Buzancy to Fosse, a strong point nearly seven miles beyond yesterday's starting point.

Strategic Point Taken.

Bayonville is an important strategic point known as the heart of the Freya Stellung. With its capture the American troops had broken the German's last organized defenses. The troops on the right, who had been able to advance only just past Clerly-le-Grand yesterday caught the mysterious signs of the sudden giving way of the Germans and pressed forward into and passed Clerly-le-Petit. They overcame the lingering machine gun resistance in Barriouart wood and captured Villers-Devant-Dun. Here the enemy launched a counter-attack which failed; then the Americans moved forward again and occupied Douillon. The total advance averaged more than 21-2 miles on a fourteen mile front but was considerably greater at points. Numerous prisoners and heavy guns were taken and the enemy left many ammunition dumps so hastily that they could not be destroyed.

COERCING EMPLOYEES.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels who was much criticised before the war began, has in more recent months been often complimented for his part in governmental affairs. The secretary is just now following a course which has brought a lot of disapproval and the action does not impress the public with its fairness. In his endeavor to prevent men from resigning from the navy in order to engage in other work the secretary is following the plan of accepting resignations and attaching this statement: "Notice has been made of your unpatriotic action for future reference.

The course the secretary is pursuing is equivalent to establishing a black list and it is therefore natural that federal employees are making strenuous objections to this course of the secretary, which in effect denies the right of resignation even when they desire by so doing to better themselves.

GOVERNOR YATES IN BELLEVILLE.

(Belleville News)
Today former Governor Richard Yates paid a visit to Belleville. He was the speaker of the day at the school picnic down at the Fair Grounds. He deserved the hearty reception which was tendered to him by the Board of Education and by the people.

No man in the state has done more unselfish, more intelligent, nor more effective work than former Governor Richard Yates to brush the clouds away which befog the brain and to clear the sky for the public mind since we took up the sword which Bill Hohenzollern forced into our hand, to strike blows again like the forefathers of old did for the perpetuation of American freedom and the preservation of American independence.

Richard Yates has been delivering speeches for America, and he knows how to make good speeches for he is a man of brains, an industrious student; the scope of his experience has been very wide, and he is not a dead one, his soul being ablaze with the fire of patriotism and devotion to the great cause of all humanity.

NOT PRAYING FOR PEACE

Or in the Little Chicago Tribune yesterday under comes gave a caricature of a father congratulating his soldier son on the fact that the latter will probably not now have to go overseas, as the beginning of the end of the war seems to be at hand. "Well, my son," said the father, "May-be you won't have to go overseas. Looks as if we might have peace, don't it?" The soldier's reply, which of course in accordance with cartoon custom sends the father heels over head, was "I am afraid so."

This little comic cartoon well points the spirit of thousands upon thousands of American youth now in army training. The soldier who does not want to go overseas is indeed the exception, and by contrast with him thousands are "pulling on the bit" in their anxiety to at least get near to the fighting. So the great majority of American lads are afraid that peace is near and that they are thus going to miss the chance of taking an active part in the greatest war that the world has ever known and administering due punishment to the war lords of Europe.

The older heads commend this spirit but nevertheless continue to hope that the war will be over before many more American troops have been transported overseas.

CAPT. SWALES' GOOD RECORD.

All other things being equal we believe it is the duty of our voters to give preference to those who have fought the battles of our country. With all due respect to his opponent we believe that Captain Swales should receive the majority of the votes for county commissioner. Practically all of his life has been spent in this city, and his record is an open book and not a page in it reflects on his private character. His services to the Union army for four years is without a stain and will compare favorably with the best of those who volunteered from this county in the early sixties. He gave the best years of his life to help save the Union from destruction and for the priceless principles of freedom to all men. As he was then so he is today a firm believer in all men having a square deal before the law and that all men should have an equal chance under Old Glory.

He is the only Union veteran on either ticket, and is the only representative of Union labor to be voted for at the election next Tuesday. He helped to organize the first Jacksonville Typographical Union, and was its first president, and from 1867 to 1901 worked as a newspaper man in various capacities. For 12 years he had charge of Memorial Hall in the state house where are stored the old Illinois battle flags, one of which he carried "over the top" in Missionary Ridge during the darkest days of the civil war. So, we say, other things being equal, we should honor the men who bore the heat and burden of war and stood between our loved homes and the blighting effects of a devastating civil war. "Now is the time for all patriotic people to rally to his standard and put him over the top, even as he went over for you and posterity, and that government of, for and by the people should not perish from the earth. A vote for him next Tuesday will demonstrate that the patriotic people of Morgan county have not forgotten the sacrifices of those who were instrumental in securing to us the best government on earth, and the clearest flag that ever floated over any country in recorded history. He stands for law enforcement and a clean ballot and, if elected, will have no friends to reward or enemies to punish, his only aim being to give every man a square deal. He has made no pledges and will make none, being determined to qualify as a servant of, for and by the people, and for the best interests of the county.

The German Home.

Gretchen can't meet Otto, by the garden gate; mother says she's got to stay at home and hate; Gretchen stands corrected; mother says, dejected, "Duty's been neglected in this house of late. What would be our rating should the kaiser know that we've done no hating since two weeks ago? We have all been sinning; busy with our spinning, we have had no hating, hating Prussia's foes. Now then, don't weeter duty must be done, we must all do better, till the war is won; 'tis no time for jesting; laboring or resting we must be detesting all that isn't Hun. No, my little Heinie, you can't go and skate, so cut out the briny—you must stay and hate; little boys, must cherish hopes that Britons bearish and the French may perish at an early date. No, no, Fritzle, darling, you can't jump and run, and there's no use snarling—hating must be done, till our Bill quits kaising, and new thrones are rising, we must be despising all that isn't Hun. Father will be coming from his labors soon, and you'll hear him humming some good Deutschland tune; and he will be stating sentiments elating if he finds us hating all beneath the moon."

BROTHER OF CORONER ROSE SERIOUSLY ILL

T. N. Rose, a brother of Coroner Rose is seriously ill at St. Luke's hospital, St. Louis, where he submitted to an operation Friday. Mr. Rose is cashier of the People's Bank at White Hall and is a prominent citizen of that city.

Republican Candidates Merit Your Support

Morgan county Republicans Vincent R. Riley, candidate for sheriff, has conducted a campaign on the platform of "a clean efficient administration." There are only a few words in this platform but they mean everything and those who know Mr. Riley are firmly convinced that he has used the words advisedly and that his election will mean just that kind of an administration. Vincent Riley after a period of successful years as a farmer, became the manager of the extensive Norbury sanatorium, prominent, fearless and forceful and will represent the people of this district in a conscientious way if chosen for office.

Jacob Frisch, one of the candidates for representative, served with acceptance as chairman of the board of supervisors of Sangamon county. When he became a member of the legislature the efficiency which had previously marked his public service was again evidenced. He has earnestly espoused the interests of the people in his home district and his record shows that he has kept constantly in mind that his constituents live both in Sangamon and Morgan counties.

Fred W. Wanless, who is the other party candidate for the legislature, is a resident of Riverton. He is a successful business man of high character and the Sangamon county people who know him best vouch for the statement that as a member of the legislature he will be a conscientious worker for the interests of the district and for the whole state.

The first name on the ballot among county candidates on the Republican ticket is Paul Samuel, who is seeking the office of county judge. Mr. Samuel is abundantly qualified for that office by training and experience. He has a temperament also which well fits him for the bench. Some years ago he began his legal education in Bloomington while engaged in newspaper work. The same spirit of overcoming obstacles which he displayed then has continued to mark his course and today he is a capable and ambitious lawyer.

George L. Riggs, the candidate for county clerk, has spent all of his life in this county, where he was born in Murrayville precinct. His record is one which is open to the scrutiny of all the people and he has always been found performing his every task with faithfulness and earnestness. He understands the responsibilities of the county clerk's office, is competent to meet them, and assures the people of this county that if elected, their affairs will be given prompt and efficient attention.

EXPERIENCE COUNTS

In every line of work employers seek to hire men experienced in the work which they are to do, and men whose records they know. Even they are usually hired by the week or month only.

The people of Morgan county are about to hire (elect) a County Judge.

The County Judge is elected not for a week or month, but for four years, and without recall. It is therefore of great importance that careful consideration be given this matter.

The voters of Morgan county have as an applicant for this position William E. Thomson, the present County Judge. For four years he has borne the responsibilities of the office and is proficient in the various duties thereof.

From him you need no promise or claim; you need not guess as to how he will fill the office. You know. His record is before you.

He has served you faithfully and efficiently and respectfully asks you to re-elect him on next Tuesday. —(adv.)

DEATHS

Lewis
John Lewis died at his home, 827 Cox street at 7:45 o'clock Saturday morning of pneumonia following an attack of influenza. Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lewis and was born in this city September 13, 1896, and all of his life had been spent here. Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Miss Ora Lewis at home and Mrs. Fred Baptist of Springfield. His sister at home is seriously ill of pneumonia.

Mr. Lewis was a young man of excellent qualities and was highly regarded by all who knew him. He was in the employ of William Ricks as machinist and was awaiting a call in limited service in that occupation. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Richardson
Mrs. J. V. Richardson of the Point has received word of the recent death of her nephew Harry Richardson of Sadorus who died at Camp Hills, New York. The body was brought to his home for funeral and interment. He was the son of James T. and Jennie Wilson Richardson and was born near Sadorus September 23, 1890. He was a member of the Methodist church and Epworth League and was an upright honorable young man. He was in the medical department 184th Infantry, 51st Division and expected to be in France at an early date. He was to be married to Miss Edna Rice of Sadorus after the war. He is survived by his father, two sisters and two brothers. At his funeral there were many beautiful flowers and a detail of eight members of the S. A. T. C. at Champaign served as bearers and carried out the military program at the grave.

Nebold
Henry Nebold of Stonington died at a local hospital at 9:10 o'clock Saturday night, aged 62 years. He was a prominent farmer in his home community. His widow and two sons survive, one of them being in the United States service. The remains were removed to Reynolds undertaking parlors and prepared for burial and will be interred at Stonington today where funeral services will be held.

ADVANCED TO CAPTAIN

Louis C. Johnson is now captain in the army medical service, having received that commission since engaging in service abroad. Capt. Johnson who is a son of C. P. Johnson of West Michigan avenue, enlisted in Chicago and entered the medical service in 1917. He was sent overseas about four months ago and is now with the 139th field hospital.

60 MILLIONS DOLLARS worth of Hard Roads WITHOUT A CENT OF COST TO TAXPAYERS 4800 Miles of 365 Day Roads extending into every county, the building of which will give employment to thousands after the war.

NOT A PENNY TO BE PAID BY TAXPAYERS

The entire cost of the State-Wide network of dependable roads to be paid out of motor vehicle license fees and the roads to be forever maintained by the State.

DO YOU WANT

one uniform State-wide system of hard roads built within five years after the war is won and paid for entirely by license fees without taxation to wait many years for the building of 102 county systems of all kinds, paid one-half by license fees and one-half by taxation?

The proposed Road Improvement Law sends all auto license fees directly and quickly into hard roads. Autos will pay the same fees under either plan.

A VOTE YES

on the Road Improvement Ballot

MEANS

an unparalleled system of hard roads without taxation within five years after the close of the war piece-meal construction with taxation under the present law. If you fail to mark your ballot YES you will count NO.

INSTEAD OF

VOTE TUESDAY FOR H. H. Vasconcellos

CANDIDATE FOR County Superintendent of Schools

A FEW FACTS FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION

Mr. Vasconcellos, after working his way thru school, has spent his entire life in educational work, as a teacher, as an assistant superintendent, and as superintendent.

Practically one half of the schools, under his supervision, have reached the "Standard School" requirements, and a great many more are near the standard as defined by law.

Mr. Vasconcellos has a thoro knowledge of the school law, which is very essential in the conduct of the office.

He possesses the ability to conduct the business as well as the educational side of the office, as is shown by the noticeable progress of the schools.

A vote for Vasconcellos for County Superintendent of schools on November 5th, is a vote for the best interests of the schools of Morgan county.

OBITUARY

Hannah M. Chapman, who, before her marriage was Hannah M. Mitchell, was born in South Clifton, Nottinghamshire, England, January 9th, 12853. Her mother died when she was ten years of age. When thirteen years old, Mrs. Chapman came to Carrollton, Ill., with her father, a sister and a younger brother. Her father died when she was sixteen years old and from that time until after her marriage she lived with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hinton of near Carrollton.

On October 14, 1872 she was united in marriage with William D. Chapman, and they immediately moved to a farm near Roodhouse, Ill., where they lived for three years, moving from there to a farm three miles east of Manchester, Ill., which they bought and where they lived until 1897, when they purchased and moved to the home in which they lived at the time of the death of Mr. Chapman and the one in which Mrs. Chapman died.

Mrs. Chapman was the mother of eight children, two of whom with her husband preceded her to the world beyond. Since the death of her husband Mrs. Chapman, with her daughter, Miss Lennie Chapman and her youngest son, Edward Clyde Chapman, both of whom were single and were residing at home at the time of the death of their father, continued to reside in the old home. Clyde was running the farm and looking after the business for her and Miss Lennie looking after the home and caring for her.

Mrs. Chapman has never been in good health since the death of her husband and has been a constant sufferer, although she bore her affliction in patience and even to the time of her death, practically none except those who lived with her really knowing how ill she was.

When a mere child Mrs. Chapman professed her faith in Christ and united with the Episcopal church, of which church she remained a member until 1906 when she united with the Christian church of Manchester and remained a true and faithful follower until her death, which occurred at her home near Manchester, October 27, 1918, at the age of 65 years, 9 months and 7 days.

Her life was an open book. She was a true and faithful wife, a kind and loving mother, a thoughtful and considerate neighbor and possessed a broad, charitable disposition that was always manifested in all her actions and much appreciated by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her loss four sons: Walter J. Chapman, of Jerseyville, Ill.; Robert W. Chapman of near Roodhouse, Ill.; and Charles D. and Edward Chapman of Manchester, Ill. Also two daughters: Mrs. Bertha Rimbey and Miss Lennie Faye Chapman, both of near Manchester, Ill., and nine grand children. Also a sister and a brother, a number of other relatives and a host of friends.

News Notes.

Miss Florence Eisle of New Berlin spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barber.

Miss Minnie Wells has returned to her home in Bloomington after a visit with her brother, Harry Wells.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Michael Cashin passed away at her home in Yatesville, Ill., after a few days illness of pneumonia, following influenza.

Cassie, daughter of James and Margaret Decker, was born near Concord, Ill., November 29, 1881, and died in Yatesville, Ill., October 25, 1918, being at her death 36 years, 10 months, and 26 days old. Her entire life was spent in Morgan county. She was married to Michael Cashin, June 25, 1899. To this union was born five children, Margaret, Nellie, Marie, Clara and Edward. Besides the grief-stricken husband and children she leaves her aged father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Decker of Jacksonville and the following brothers and sisters: Martin, of Ashland; Abbie, wife of Edward Crowder of Strawn's Crossing; Charles, of Ashland; Lyman, of Jacksonville; Dollie, wife of Will Collins of Philadelphia; Mabel, wife of Guy Hayes, of Jacksonville, and Albert in the U. S. service. A brother and sister, Alfred and Mollie, preceded her in death. She also leaves a wide circle of friends and neighbors who will long cherish the memory of one who was always ready and willing to lend a helping hand. Especially was she good in sickness or where death had entered, going and giving help and sympathy, which are so much needed at such times. An affectionate wife, a tender mother, a good woman has left us, but our loss is her eternal gain. She was a member of St. Augustine's Catholic church of Ashland, also a member of the Court of Honor Lodge No. 403 of Prentice, where she will long be missed, for she was a faithful sister.

Funeral services were held Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock conducted by Rev. Father Murphy at Ashland, with burial in the Ashland Catholic cemetery. The many and beautiful flowers proved the degree of respect in which she was held by all who knew her. Nobody knows the steps it takes to keep a home together. Nobody knows the care each makes, nobody knows but those mother hands, so cold and white are folded now forever. Oh husband, say His will is right, oh children, cling together.

You know she has only gone before, to her home so bright and fair. Look ever forward to the time, when you will meet her there. L. C. B.

PREDICT VICTORY IN

BOND ELECTION

Victory for the Sixty Million Dollar Good Roads Bond Issue was predicted in a statement issued by William G. Edens, President of the Illinois Highway Improvement Association, which association has been in charge of the State-wide campaign in favor of the proposition.

"The people of the State realize that a good roads program will assist in stabilizing industry and giving employment to thousands of workmen after the war is won," said Mr. Edens. "We have had workable support from the leaders of all political parties from labor, from agricultural organizations, from the women's clubs, and from business, religious and fraternal associations. As a last warning to our friends we say: 'Do not fall to vote the Little Ballot if you vote at the election and neglect the Little Ballot your vote will be counted against the good roads proposition. We need a majority of all votes cast for members of the general assembly. The method of financing the Bond Issue exclusively from automobile fees has gained favorable attention from every state in the Union. Illinois is the first state to propose a road financing plan under which there is no tax against the home of the workingman or the land of the farmer. The entire cost is borne by automobile owners who will save in repairs more than the amount involved. It is a sound business proposition put up to the voters of the state, and their appreciation of the economic principles involved will be shown by the returns on Election Day."

FUNERALS

McDowd

Funeral services for Mrs. Abbie McDowd were held at Hebron cemetery Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in charge of the Rev. G. T. Wetzel, assisted by the Rev. W. R. Leslie. Music was furnished by the choir. The flowers were cared for by friends. The bearers were: Charles Beahmear, Gordon Jumper, Edward Hairgrove, Newton Orison, Al Hopper and Orville Foster.

Ausmus

Funeral services for Earl Ausmus were held at Union cemetery at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in charge of the Rev. Ray March. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Clarence Hamm. The bearers were: Earl Williams, Vernon Baker, Henry Baker and George Baker.

MORTUARY

Cashin

Miss Nellie Cashin died Saturday at the home of her father, Michael Cashin, of Yatesville. She was sixteen years of age and a bright promising young lady. Her mother was buried last Sunday, both victims of pneumonia. She is survived by her father, three sisters and one brother.

PRIVATE JOSEPH HOSP

HERE ON FURLOUGH

Private Joseph P. Hosp is in the city from Camp Dix, N. J., for a visit at the home of his father, J. A. Hosp, 357 East North street. The young man is a member of the 102nd ordnance depot company. Just before his company sailed for overseas duty several months ago, young Hosp contracted scarlet fever and was ill for a considerable period in the base hospital, Camp Meade. His company sailed during this period and he was later transferred to the ordnance depot company at Camp Dix, N. J.

WITH THE SICK

Percy Dooling, who has been ill of pneumonia, at his home in Beardstown following an attack of influenza is reported as improved.

Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Swales of 444 South Clay avenue, are ill with influenza.

Friends of Mrs. E. C. Lambert will regret to know that her condition shows no improvement. Mr. Lambert has been seriously ill for a number of weeks past at St. Paul, Minn.

Dr. F. J. Pitner was taken with a chill Friday night, followed by a high fever. Saturday morning there was congestion of one lobe of the right lung. A late report from Dr. Pitner last night indicated that the fever had abated and that his early convalescence may be looked for.

The children of J. J. Doyle at 937 Allen avenue, who have been ill with influenza are improving.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nunes and family who have been ill with influenza, are improving, with the exception of Miss Edith, who contracted a case of small pox, but is doing nicely.

Dr. Thompson who has been home with the "flu" for the past week is now able to be down town again.

EXPECTS TRANSFER.

Mrs. Alice Taylor of North East street received a letter from her son, Corporal Frank B. Taylor, of the medical department, at Fort McPherson, Georgia, that he expected to be transferred to Washington, D. C.

Have, Nov. 2.—King Albert of Belgium, has conferred upon Henry P. Davison, chairman of the war council of the American Red Cross, the Order of Leopold, the highest Belgian decoration.

IN THE MIND

Saving money, like every other good act, BEGINS IN THE MIND. Set it down as a principle from which you will never depart that a certain portion of all you make shall be saved. Cultivate this habit of thought. Thoughts are things. And the most fruitful seed in the efficient mind is the constant thought of thrift.

MR. HAIRGROVE AND THE $60,000,000 BOND ISSUE

Editor Journal—The article recently published in the Journal by Mr. Hairgrove on the subject of "Good Roads and the $60,000,000 Bond Issue" is very misleading in several respects.

He says that the State cannot sell bonds at 4 per cent while the United States Government is paying 4 1/2 per cent interest on its bonds. That is probably true; but Governor Lowden has given his written assurance that no bonds will be issued until after the war, when we will be down to a normal rate of interest. In any such times this State should be able to borrow all the money it wants at from 3 1/2 to 4 per cent.

He next says that the annual interest charge on the bonds will be $2,400,000. This is a serious error; for only a part of the bonds will be issued at any one time—just enough to pay for the work as it progresses. It is probable that the interest payment in any one year will not exceed $1,800,000, and the amount of interest will gradually decrease as the bonds are paid off. He further says that he does not favor paying this interest and having only $1,800,000 annually for roads. This is an incorrect view of the situation. The entire amount of the bond issue will be paid out for the roads as they are built, and the annual interest, as well as the annual installment of the principal, will be paid from auto license fees.

The history of the bond issue for the Court House is in no way similar to that of the bond issue for the hard roads; for under the law the latter must be paid within a period not exceeding 20 years from the issue of the last bonds; and the total amount of the auto tax, (if all is necessary), is appropriated for that purpose and cannot lawfully be diverted to any other purpose.

He says that "Bonds mean bondage for the tax payer and income for the money lender." This is a very unworthy argument, and an attempt to create class prejudice over a matter which ought to be one of pure business. If the farmers or other business men of Morgan County want these road bonds, they can buy them; and as they are to be paid by auto license fees, they do not mean "bondage for the tax payer" for the tax payer, as such, will not have one cent of them to pay. If he owns an auto, he will have to pay the auto license fee whether he has hard roads to drive on or not.

He says, "This is not a good time to build—labor is scarce, prices are high." That is true, and Governor Lowden (I repeat) has given definite assurance that no bonds will be issued and no work done on the hard roads until the war is over and labor more abundant and prices lower. But if the bonds are voted preliminary work may begin—such as surveys.

Again he says "I am for good roads—not bonds." I should like to ask what kind of roads he expects to see in his lifetime without the issue of bonds. The Tice law has been in effect for some five years, and what have we to show for the expenditure of money under it? A little piece of hard road between here and Springfield and some oil roads which are now among the very worst in the county—such as that between Jacksonville and Chapin.

For one, I would like to see some good roads during my lifetime and am willing that my auto license should be applied toward paying for them.

The Secretary of State has certified to the number of autos now licensed in this state, and that the fees from such licenses will considerably more than meet the annual payments required under the bond issue, both for principal and interest. Moreover, if the number of autos increases in the future as in the recent past, there will be on an average over $2,000,000 a year from the auto license fund in the State Treasury to be applied upon the dirt roads under the Tice law. Thos. Worthington.

John P. Ward, superintendent of schools of Scott county has written the following verses dedicated to Fritz Haskell, prominent in Red Cross work in Scott county:

That's Haskell.

When you hear the neighbors speaking of a tall and slim like gent
With widely spreading shoulders and a slightly forward bent.
And a strongly builded frame that moves with double-quick time step.

That hikes along the byways with vigor and with pep—
When you hear them always talking of this common looking man who is doing all the good to all the others that he can.

Who is endless with his helpings, seeming never bled or vexed.
Finding time to straighten troubles for a fellow man perplexed—
That's Haskell.

When you hear the women boasting of a kind and clever knight
Who has ever cherished ladies thru his forty summers quiet
Who has ever thought a female walked the straight and narrow path.

And who even yet is planning for his future better half—
When you hear them sounding praises for a mutual friend well met.

Who has earned a hero's title and remains unsmug as yet.
Who has taken 'self' from selfish and in duty put the 'do'.

And who seeks to scatter sunshine when the clouds obscure the view—
That's Haskell.

When you find a stalwart patriot smiling boldly in his den.
Sorting pictures, books and papers, swiftly with his pen.
Deeply musing and persuing, finding something daily.

Mowing down the pesky fly swarms with his brand and swift shillalah
When you grip a hearty hand-clasp with a smile included too.

And you feeling quite delighted with the greetings tendered you.
And you hear the same warm welcome handed out to all the others.

Dealing kindness, giving service, treating all mankind as brother—
That's Haskell.

REV. W. E. SPOONTS
DESCRIBES OCEAN TRIP

Jacksonville Minister in Letter to Joshua Vasconcellos Gives Interesting Details of Voyage to France.

The following letter has been received by Joshua Vasconcellos from Rev. W. E. Spoonst, now in M. C. A. work in France. It is an entertaining story of the minister's recent trip to France and will be read with great interest by all his friends here.

October 5, 1918.

Dear Joshua:—
I am going to take time and tell you about our trip over the sea. Tuesday, Sept. 10, we boarded the "Y" towards mid-night.

Wednesday, Sept. 10 we swung free from the pier at 6:20 p. m. and set forth on our long cruise down the mighty St. Lawrence. The wharves of Montreal swarmed with camouflaged steamers. We sighted the great span of the bridge at Quebec, that famous arch which fell twice before it was finally riveted in place. We anchored well above the old town.

Thursday, 12, we dropped down the river under the Quebec Bridge and anchored again. Then we moved on and anchored again near the old fort, under the historic heights of Montcalm and Wolfe.

Friday, 13, at 7 a. m. we drew anchor and set forth on our long and perilous voyage, one of a large fleet. With us is a cruiser, heavily armed. We sailed 59 nautical miles by the ship's log at night we were tired and worn out and went to bed and slept soundly.

Saturday, 14, all men were assigned to life boats at 10:00 a. m. The "Y" men volunteered to make their own beds as help was very scarce. Convoys joined us early in the day. We made 259 miles by the log. We passed the day by amusing ourselves by watching the fleet formations.

Sunday, 15, church services on the after deck at 10:30 a. m.; saw the western coast of Newfoundland at 2 p. m. Her lighthouse gleamed on our starboard beam at dusk. A sunset of amazing beauty such as can only be seen on the ocean. At night we saw the dim coast of Labrador, crowned by a glory of Northern lights. The most of the passengers stayed on deck for more than two hours, intoxicated by a splendor to describe which would be beyond the power of words. It was the Aurora Borealis, or Northern Lights. We went 158 nautical miles.

Monday, 16, our last land went out of sight early this morning. The day opened with target practice by our camouflaged guardian. A big iceberg furnished our excitement of the day. We passed thru a fox bank, which, until it was our decks, created much discord among the amateur geographers, who failed to find this upon their maps. 286 miles by the log. This night we advanced our watches 28 minutes. Company B held the first stunt night of the trip.

Tuesday, 17, we followed our usual schedule, passing the day in discussing rumors, any general gossip. This schedule was: 8 a. m.; breakfast 9 a. m.; second breakfast, 3:30 a. m. chapel 10 a. m. life boat drill; 10:30 a. m. language study; 12:30; first lunch, 1:30 second lunch; 3 p. m. athletics; 4:30 p. m. inspection and roll call. 6 p. m. first dinner, 7 p. m. second dinner; 8 p. m. songs or stunts. 270 miles by the log. Our watches jumped 14 minutes. Company C entertained with stunts at night.

Wednesday, 18, whales were seen spouting, seagulls and petrels playing over the waves. 273 miles by the log. The clock jumped 22 minutes. Company D entertained. Orders for the high seas: "no smoking after 6 p. m. on deck. The 7 men began their night watch, 6 p. m. to 6 a. m.

Thursday, 19, a large school of porpoises was seen about 5 o'clock. Company A entertained at night. Sailed 268 miles by the log. Clock jumps 29 minutes. Many sat up late to see the beautiful moonlight.

Friday, 20, we were ordered to wear life belts continuously. A submarine said to have been sighted early this day. The "Y" established watch with glasses about the deck. We began our life-boat drill at 10 o'clock after having been assigned to boats. Twenty-five men to the boat. We sailed 265 miles by the log. We set our watches 30 minutes.

Saturday, 21, the boat pitched and tossed all day on mountain of waves. Many of our men complained of a disposition, or inclination, to feed the fish, all of which seemed largely inspired by the high waves. We sailed 250 miles by the log. Clock gained 29 minutes.

Sunday, 22, the ocean this morning was a sea of a large looking glass shining in the sun. "Y" men passed the day wondering at its changing lights and colors. At 6 a. m. to a "Y" man on deck on watch, fell the honor of sighting our convoys, the British destroyers before the ship's lookout had seen them. These rolled about by the heliostorous sea, came smoking down with a remarkable speed. We sailed 275 miles this day and time jumped 33 minutes.

Monday, 23, as we ate lunch, a man rushed excitedly in, calling, "A lighthouse! A lighthouse!" We forgot our usual dessert of rice and chemical milk, and rushed to the deck. On the skyline was a thin white mark, which after much misinformation was declared to mark the Scilly Islands, our first land. We soon saw a second lighthouse, and thru a glass, hills beyond. Towards night a hydroplane flying high dived over us at great speed several times. We made 255 miles. Watches jumped 20 minutes.

Tuesday, 24, the French shore near Dieppe was visible this morning early. Two hydroplanes bearing the colors of France hovered over us at a no great height, and one, a British dirigible, ended the fleet. In the afternoon the English coast was seen. At night, the Straits of Dover, and the stars of England and France were clearly seen. England at Dover and of France at Calais. We were amazed at the great Dover light and at the searchlights exploring the cloudy night with suspicious rays. We sailed 268 miles. Clocks jumped one hour. We were off the Kentish coast when we went to bed.

Wednesday, 25, when in the morning lay the old river Thames when we woke, Barges dropped seaward by us, impelled by slanting, salmon-colored sails. We anchored between the docks of Tilbury and Gravesend after seeing the pleasant green hills of England. When the tide had arisen and permitted us to proceed. In the afternoon, our passing into the city was a triumphal process, tugs tooting and factory whistles blowing, and the English girls in their overalls, running out from war-work to cheer us and welcome us to their shores.

Space and the censor will not permit me to tell all, but I must say a word about the British kiddies and the reception they gave us at the dock, where they sang our old songs while we showered them with coppers.

This is the story of our trip, and I wish I had time to tell you of my few days' stay in London and what I have seen here in Paris. I will keep some things till I see you.

I will leave here in two or three days for my field of work. This is a great work, calling for the very best that there is in a man.

You must tell the church people and friends that I am thinking of them and wish them the blessings of the Lord.

I am to be a religious director in one of the largest camps in the country, a big job, but by the help of the Lord I am going to do the work.

If ever I find time again I will write you something of my experiences in the work.

I trust that you are all keeping up the church work, you must not let it go down, tell the folks that the very best way they can show their appreciation of my work in this needy field is to keep the home church fires burning.

To the Voters of
MORGAN COUNTY

As most of you are aware I am a candidate for the office of County Clerk, subject to the will of the voters on November 5, 1918. I have endeavored to see all the voters of the county, but under existing conditions, it was impossible for me to do so.

The only reason, so far as I can learn, that has been advanced for the election of another to this office was that I had been there long enough.

Let each voter confront himself with this proposition:

If I were seeking to employ a man to conduct a business that is as wide in its scope as are the duties of the County Clerk, would I employ a man who had absolutely no experience in that particular work, or would I employ one who had the experience of the present incumbent?

I earnestly solicit the support of all voters on Tuesday, November 5, 1918.

Very truly yours,

Cal Boruff

Lieut. Felix E. Farrell recently passed the medical examination in Springfield, taken in conjunction with his application for service with the quartermasters department. For a considerable period Lieut. Farrell has had in mind entering the army service and only recently so arranged his affairs that his application for admission could be sent to Washington. He recently met the requirement of examination by army surgeons.

Lieut. Farrell had not intended to give any publicity to his application until the certainty of his acceptance for the service, but his name appeared yesterday in the Springfield papers in the list of persons who had passed the army examination. He is hoping to be sent overseas.

Nothing like it so early in the season. Our entire hat stock, trimmed of untrimmed hats at a reduction of 33 1-3 per cent. FLORETH CO.

G. L. RIGGS

Good Ten Years Record

To Whom it May Concern

It is with great pleasure that I most heartily recommend Mr. George L. Riggs of Jacksonville, Illinois, to any prospective employer or the public at large for service in any capacity for which he may apply.

Mr. Riggs has been in our employ for more than ten consecutive years, his work has come under my personal supervision during this time and I have found him to be absolutely above reproach, he is an untiring worker, loyal to any trust, his integrity beyond question and with this requisite, knowing it to be true, I have no hesitancy in recommending him without reservation.

He has handled for us a business of approximately $200,000 per annum with credit to himself and to our satisfaction and with this record he is worthy of trust and the confidence of any and all who may find reason to make inquiry.

It is with regret that we allow him to leave our employ, but since he has seen fit to seek other fields to promote his personal interests we must submit and wish him well and cannot do other than recommend him for service, either private or public, fully believing he will merit such confidence as may be placed upon him.

Sincerely yours,
C. L. Hatfield, Proprietor,

FARMERS' CLUB LETTER

Wheat Price Adjustment—A great many farmers have been expecting to receive a rebate on wheat sold this fall, and some buyers have been expecting to pay one. According to the ruling of the Grain Corporation, the buyer is allowed only a margin of 8 cents per bushel and freight for handling wheat. If the freight rate is 3 cents a bushel to St. Louis and the farmers' wheat graded No. 1, he ought to receive $2.24 less the 11 cents allowed the buyer or 2.13 per bushel. If this adjustment has not already been made, the farmer should request the buyer to adjust the price. If the buyer refuses to make this adjustment it is in order to notify Alfred S. Adams, Division of Enforcement, U. S. Food Administration, Chicago, Ill., who has charge of enforcing the rules of the Food Administration.

Last Word on the Bond Issue—Both good and bad advice have gone out from this office in one form or other. That advising the farmers of Morgan county to support the $50,000,000 bond issue represents our judgment concerning his move for good roads. If that measure should be carried next Tuesday it will be public calamity that we shall all regret. Are you going to help pull Illinois out of the mud? Vote YES.

Plans for Building—We are collecting plans for various buildings and will gladly help any farmer in the county adapt these to his use. Some of these are in bulletin form while others are in the form of catalogs issued by various commercial concerns. At present we have some bulletins showing excellent types of "hog houses" both of the large, central and individual type. They are yours for the asking.

Farm Account Books—This book was designed by the farm management of the University of Illinois. It is inexpensive, easy to keep, and very practical. If you have never kept farm account books or have trouble in keeping the one you have, you are invited to examine the copy at this office. It may help you.

Gas Masks—A concerted effort is still going on to collect stones for gas masks. The carbon made from these absorbs gas better than ordinary charcoal. Please collect the following and dry them: peach stones, apricot pits, prune pits, plum pits olive pits, date seeds, cherry pits, butter nut shells, brazil nut shells, walnut shells and hickory nut shells. If you do not know where to deposit them notify us and we will tell you where to leave them.

New Members—The executive committee wish to understand that the latch string always hangs out at the Morgan County Farmers' Club. If you know of some progressive farmer who might like to become a member of this organization, please give us their names and we will send them some of our circular letters, so they can tell what we are doing. New members are welcome at any time.

Farm Visits—Owing to the epidemic of influenza, I have not recently made farm visits, except where requests came in from persons who did not have the disease and were sure the county agent did not have it. I fully expect to call upon members on his own farm this year whether he requests it or not, and will resume this form of service as soon as the coast is clear. In the meantime, do not hesitate to call upon me for any service that I can give to you.

Vote next Tuesday for hard roads in Illinois and a convention to discuss constitutional revision.

MEREDOSIA

Meredosia, Nov. 2.—Friends have received announcements of the marriage of Miss Mabel Dehinder and J. N. Williams which occurred recently at Mobile, Ala. Miss Dehinder left here about six months ago for Mobile to reside.

Mrs. Fred Easley returned home Friday to Seligman, Mo., after an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Easley. Miss Anna Easley accompanied her home for an extended visit. The remains of the two youngest children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of near Chambersburg were brought here for interment Wednesday and Thursday. The family have been very ill of influenza and the two children succumbed to the disease. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were formerly residents of this place and have the sympathy of the community in their sorrow.

Earl Apperson, Wayne Sumpter, Otto Yeakel, Harry Baur, and Earl Pond of the government fishing crew have been victims of the influenza the past week.

Jas. R. McCarthy was hunting in this vicinity yesterday.

Rev. D. L. Jeffers accompanied his son Wayne to Quincy Thursday where the latter will again resume his studies at Chadcock after a two weeks' stay at home on account of the prevailing epidemic.

Mrs. Charles Chance and two children of Springfield were guests of Mrs. Alta Pate Thursday.

Samuel Coy of Camp Humphrey, Va., spent Friday here the guest of Miss Elton Pond. Mr. Coy will return to the camp the 6th of the month.

James Galaway returned Thursday from a visit with his father at Weldon.

Miss Margaret Sentney has accepted a position as clerk at the Mercantile Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zahn and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Berger of Jacksonville spent Thursday with relatives.

Mrs. J. P. Baur has returned from a visit with her son Sylvester at Lansing, Ia. The latter is improving nicely from his recent attack of pneumonia.

Among those who have been stricken with the influenza the past week are: Mrs. Robert Myles and daughter, Mollie; Gladys Vanderlip, Adeline Davis, Vera Hale, Amelia Ruswinkle, Eva Rausch, Alma Simpson, Mrs. Fred Payne. All are having it in a light form and will soon be out again.

GRANT GRAFF FOR ASSESSOR AND TREASURER OF MORGAN COUNTY

Grant Graff of Jacksonville was here the other day shaking hands with his numerous friends. Graff is the Republican candidate for assessor and treasurer of Morgan county and his friends on this side of the county line had anything to say, he would get the office by an overwhelming majority. People here know him from boyhood up and they know him to be a straightforward, honorable gentleman, a man that can be depended upon and a man who has the ability to handle the affairs of the office. In fact, he is every inch a man.—Ashland Sentinel.

COLLEGE NOTES

Robert Capps, '17, now a second lieutenant in the ordnance department, was a visitor on the campus Friday morning. Lieutenant Capps has been stationed at Raritan Arsenal, New Jersey. He is now expecting a new assignment, of course, with the hope that it may be an over-sea assignment.

Sergeant Conroy gave a most interesting address to the men of the S. A. T. C. unit Tuesday evening. On Thursday evening he took dinner at Academy Hall, and afterwards gave an address in the Academy Hall parlors to the girls of the College.

Three men, Messrs. Ringstrom, Redd and Ralph, all privates in the medical corps arrived at the College Thursday for service in connection with the S. A. T. C. unit. These men came from Fort Riley to the College unit in order to assist in taking care of the health of the men. There are at present no cases of illness in the barracks. Considering the trouble which nearly every other S. A. T. C. unit in Illinois has had the college unit here has been remarkably free from disease.

Two government inspectors of academic works, Professors Walser and Stout, were on the campus Wednesday. Illinois has been connected with the district including Michigan and Wisconsin. These inspectors look after the academic work for the men in the S. A. T. C. units in the colleges of these states.

Word received from William Kinner, '17, states that Earl Sooy, ex-'19, who is with the engineers in France, has been sent back to this country for instruction work. The parents of Mr. Sooy have not received any definite information from their son.

President Rammelkamp will devote the major part of his time during the next two weeks to the United War Work Campaign.

Professor J. G. Ames has been elected chairman of the Faculty and Students Committee at the College for the United War Work Campaign. The other members of the committee being Prof. Lacey, Homer Thompson, Ruth Turner, Bryce Whistler, and Wilbur Rogers.

A Backward Party was given by the members of the Gamma Delta Society in their hall Friday evening. The new girls of the girls of the College were the guests of the Society.

Miss Marion Miller, '18, who is teaching in Versailles and Miss Ruth Chipchase, '18, who is teaching in Mt. Sterling, have been visiting relatives in Jacksonville the past week. Both schools were closed on account of the prevalence of influenza.

Vote Tuesday for Wm. E. Thomson for county judge. (Adv.)

COLLEGE OF MUSIC

The following program was presented in the College of Music Thursday afternoon. Owing to the quarantine because of influenza only students in the college proper were present, but a large number of these were in attendance and enjoyed the excellent program.

Miss Moore's recital is scheduled for the middle of November. Miss Moore spent a large portion of the summer in Chicago studying with Leon Sammetini and has prepared an interesting program. Miss Moore's work always delights her hearers. A most delightful afternoon is assured.

Miss Janice Meredith Frather of Roodhouse has registered in piano with Miss Edith Robinson.

Vote Tuesday for Wm. E. Thomson for county judge. (Adv.)

WAR WORK CAMPAIGN NOTES

This is a campaign for the K. C. Jewish Welfare Board, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., A. L. A., and S. A., seven in name but one in aim and that to get the money for the boys "Over There."

Richard Hyer has been detailed to take in hand the work of "chalking the walks" for the U. W. W. campaign.

Monday morning headquarters will be opened on South Sandy street in the rooms used in the Red Cross campaign. Visitors will be welcome, come in it's your campaign.

The Rev. W. E. Collins chairman of the speaker's committee announces the following meetings for Serg. Conroy for this week:

Thursday, Nov. 7, Lynnville, 7:30 p. m.

Friday, Nov. 8, Prentice, 7 p. m.

Saturday, Nov. 9, Nortonville, 3 p. m.

Sunday Nov. 10, Arcadia, Grace chapel, 3 p. m.

The Rev. E. B. Landis and George B. Kendall have been appointed vice chairmen of the county by Dr. Barker. A. C. Metcalf will be Dr. Barker's assistant. Following the precincts alphabetically Rev. Mr. Landis will have charge of the first nine to Lynnville and Mr. Kendall will have charge of the remaining.

MEREDOSIA MAN DIED SUDDENLY

Albert M. Waldo Passed Away Friday Night—Coroner Rose Held Inquest

Meredosia, Nov. 2.—Albert M. Waldo, aged 60 years, and an old resident of Meredosia, died suddenly at his home in that town Friday night.

Mr. Waldo apparently had been in his usual health and after eating a hearty supper retired. Later he was heard descending the stairs and leaving the house. When he did not return in a reasonable time search was made and he was found lying in the yard unconscious.

He was carried into the house and Dr. Streuter summoned. However he never regained consciousness and died a few hours after being found.

Coroner Rose was notified and went to Meredosia and held an inquest Saturday. The testimony of W. M. Hauser, J. D. McLain, J. E. J. Burrus and G. B. Wilday was heard. From the testimony it appeared that Mr. Waldo had been subject to fainting spells.

Dr. Streuter gave as his opinion that death resulted from cerebral hemorrhage. The jury was composed of G. M. Burrus, foreman; J. S. Scott, S. D. Kurlman, D. A. Allen, G. T. Williams, H. L. Lake, clerk. After hearing the testimony the verdict given accorded with the facts as brought out.

A Service of Worship for the Home on Sunday, Nov. 3, '18

(Suggested by a Jacksonville Minister.)

Invocation:
Our Father who are in Heaven! Hallowed by thy name! May your Spirit enter our open hearts with quickening, healing power that we may worship you in the beauty of holiness. Amen.

Hymn.
Safely through another week God has brought us on our way; Let us each a blessing seek, waiting in his courts today.

Day of all the week the best, emblem of eternal rest.
While we seek supplies of grace, through the blest redeemer's name;

Show thy reconciling face, take away our sins and shame; From our worldly care set free, may we rest this day in thee.

Scripture lesson.
"The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he anointed me to preach good tidings to the poor; he hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord." Luke 4:18-19. Prayer.

Our Heavenly Father! You have blessed us, bless us now. We are conscious of our need and your power. Enter into the secret places of our lives that we may be reformed and transformed by your presence. Bless the boys who are fighting and dying on the field of honor. Lead us to the mountain top where we may receive a vision of a life of service and then direct our footsteps down in the valley where humanity dwells that we may make real the vision in parenthood and in sacrificial, loving ministrations. Forgive the erring, comfort the sorrowing and give hope to the dying. Grant us these blessings through Christ, Amen.

Hymn.
Just when I need him, Jesus is near, just when I falter, just when I fear:

Ready to help me, ready to cheer, just when I need him most.
Just when I need him he is my all, answering when upon him I call.

Tenderly watching, lest I should fall, just when I need him most.
Serman. The Religion of Kindness.

Each life is a blot radiating darkness or a sun radiating life. Each life is a harmonious note in the world's music or a jarring discord. No man lives unto himself. We are our brother's keeper. He has a right to demand that his influence shall not be harmful but helpful in the formation and development of his character. We are told that the greatest thing in this world is man and the greatest thing in man is character. Character is not determined by one's possession, knowledge or fame. Genuine character may be measured by one's desire to exemplify in his life the religion of kindness. Love has a common voice and speaks a universal language. If your life is characterized by loving kindness your efforts and influence will never die but they will be turned into the divinest gods.

Today the world's heart is sad. We are learning again that there is no progress except through sacrifice and suffering. The world moves onward . . . by a survival of the fittest but by sacrifice of the best. One of the mysteries of life is the awful suffering accompanying all genuine progress of the race. This war is more than an eddy in the stream of progress for it will force the world onward many leagues. We are living in the dawn of a new day in the history of liberty and democracy.

The church that dares magnify a dogma or a peculiar theology, or philosophy in the face of this challenge will become a disappearing institution. The Christian who places a creed before life will be ages behind the times. The still, sad cry of the human heart is for the religion of service and the religion of kindness.

The world needs the modern Good Samaritan. He will bind up the bruised, suffering humanity. It is the spirit of service that will revolutionize the world; it is the religion of kindness that will redeem the race.

You can never tell when you do an act, just what the result will be; But in every deed you are sowing the seed. Though the harvest you may not see.

Each kindly act is an acorn dropt in God's productive soil. Though you may not know, yet the tree shall grow. And shelter the brows that toll."

Benediction.
"May the Lord watch between thee and me when we are absent one from the other." Amen.

RECEIVED LETTER FROM ARMY CHAPLAIN

Mrs. Catherine Devlin of East State street received a letter Friday from Father Thomas L. Harmon, chaplain of the 315th Sanitary Train of which her son, Charles Devlin, recently killed in action was a member. Father Harmon is a cousin of Coach R. E. Harmon of this city and Capt. W. T. Harmon, now a service abroad. He also is related to Mrs. Devlin, and it gives her great comfort to receive a letter from one who had more than passing interest in her son.

American Expeditionary Forces, 90th Division.

Mrs. Devlin, Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Friend:

No doubt the sad news of your son Charles' death has reached your from government sources ere this. It was not my pleasure to meet him before his death, altho he had been in our organization for six weeks before going into battle. He was transferred a few days before the big drive to the 358th Infantry. He had received the sacraments prior to going over the top and cognizant of the danger he stood in, no doubt was well prepared for his glorious end. I wish to extend to you and all the family my sincere sympathy and tell you how I feel for you in your loss. You have given him to God and his country and our dear Lord will surely solace you in your hour of sorrow. His end was a brave one, he died fighting valorously for his flag. He had no fear in him, as those that were near him relate. My heart has been made very sorrowful during these sad days and it has been my mournful duty to lay away some of our dear boys. Your son is buried where he died, with others on the field of battle and also of honor. His grave is marked with a name plate and a simple cross.

After the war is over, which may God grant will be soon, the government will exhume all our fallen boys and bring them home or place them all together in one fine national cemetery. I assure you I have not forgotten your dear boy's soul in the holy mass and by my poor prayers I have done by your poor dear boy as I would have others do by me if I had died and for my own poor mother at home. Again offering you and your family my heartfelt sympathy, I am,

Devotedly yours,

Thomas L. Harmon,

(R. C.) Chaplain 315th Sanitary Train.

American Expeditionary Forces,

A. P. O. 770.

MAKE DONATION TO EMERGENCY HOSPITAL

Boilermakers and Helpers at C. P. & St. L. Shops Gave $20 to Emergency Hospital.

Saturday evening Walter Quinlan went to the Emergency hospital located in the open air school and presented Miss Mattie Coale with $20 to be used for the hospital.

The donation was made for the boilermakers and helpers at the C. P. & St. L. shops who wished to do their bit in the present influenza epidemic. The action of the men is most commendable and one that might be emulated by other bodies of men.

UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN UNDERWAY

County Organization Workers Met at Luncheon Saturday—Quota Plan Worked Out—Same as for Liberty Loan Campaign—The Workers Present.

In accordance with plans made by County Chairman Dr. J. R. Harker, county organization workers of the United War fund campaign had luncheon at the Peacock Inn Saturday noon. Practically all the precincts of the county were represented and from the reports made it was very evident that the work is already under way. While the county quota is $54,000, it has been agreed by common consent that the wishes of the national organization should be met and the amount raised to $81,000, which means an increase of 50 per cent. It will be a school district campaign of a thoro kind, with the purpose in view of not only raising the money, but of having every man, woman and child give something toward the common cause.

Daily Record on Progress. As one speaker expressed it yesterday, those who give are not putting their money into the hands of any separate organization for expenditure. They are giving it "to the boys."

In his introductory remarks Dr. Harker mentioned that A. C. Metcalf is his first assistant and that the captains in charge of the different precincts are Dr. E. B. Landis and George B. Kendall. The organization has been worked out in this way in order to facilitate the canvassing work and also the matter of giving the daily record on progress made.

The headquarters will be maintained in the Hayden building on South Main street. The chairman called for workers from each precinct and they made brief reports of progress. In a few instances where organization has not been effected, it was made clear that the interest is satisfactory and it is only a matter of a few days until the organization work has been completed.

No Quota is Perfect.

E. E. Crabtree, chairman of the quota committee, explained the plan followed, which is based upon that worked out for the Liberty loan. It is realized that no precinct or school district quota is perfect and the organization men were asked to take that fact into account when considering their own quotas in their relationship to the quotas in other precincts. In every precinct or district there are property owners who reside elsewhere and who would like to know whether this is true or not. And if it is true I am wondering why the county board did not employ a home man who would see to it that we got the worth of our money.

All this seems strangely inconsistent, inasmuch as the county board has pretended to be in favor of home industry and home people.

And the people would also like to know why it is necessary for the county board to employ an outside attorney to advise them in legal matters. We have a state's attorney who is perfectly competent to attend to such legal propositions as may from time to time, come before the county board, and whom the people elected for that very purpose and it is said the fee is to be paid out of the soldiers' monument appropriation. The people have a right to know the inside facts. A change in the political personnel of the county board might help to enlighten the tax payers of Morgan county.

What Work Means to Soldiers. E. G. Saye told of the publicity plans that had been worked out thru newspaper articles and posters and told the workers that an abundant supply of literature was ready for distribution. Sgt. Conroy spoke briefly, telling how much the war work means to the soldiers at the front and he expressed the view that thousands upon thousands of these soldiers would be nervous wrecks because of the strain thru which they pass if it were not for the relief given by the Y. M. C. A. and associated organizations.

Louis K. Torbet of the transportation department of the Y. M. C. A. emphasized the point that even if the war should be over tomorrow, that there will be a continued need for the work of the war organizations.

Among the workers present were the following:

Charles Ogle, Arcadia. Allison Thomason, Markham. C. F. Wemple, Waverly. A. Howe, Pisgah. Charles M. Strawn, Alexander. W. H. Deatherage, Waverly. Frank J. Kaiser, Alexander. El. E. Ogle, Arcadia. AN OPEN LETTER.

Jacksonville, Ill. November 3, 1918. I am a candidate for the office of County Judge of Morgan County. My candidacy is submitted to you on no promises of platforms except a clean, efficient and fearless administration of the laws relating to that particular Court. I promise to serve you faithfully. You have the right to expect that much of me and my administration would be at fault were I to fail in any of these respects.

I appreciate the responsibilities connected with the office but am presumptuous enough to claim that I can perform its duties as efficiently and honestly as those who have previously occupied that position.

I respectfully solicit your suffrage at the coming election on next Tuesday, November 5th.

Yours very truly,

PAUL SAMUELL.

To the voters of Morgan County.

WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

Editor Journal: It is a common talk on the streets that the county commissioners have made a contract with a non-resident monument salesman to supervise the construction of the soldiers' monument. As a tax payer and one who is deeply interested in the monument I would like to know whether this is true or not. And if it is true I am wondering why the county board did not employ a home man who would see to it that we got the worth of our money.

All this seems strangely inconsistent, inasmuch as the county board has pretended to be in favor of home industry and home people.

EDWARD TOMLINSON HOME

Edward Tomlinson is enjoying a brief two days with his parents Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Tomlinson. He is at the State University Students Training corps, and is looking fine as soldier life at it evidently agrees with him. He seems well pleased with his surroundings and says the eats and general treatment are good. There are some 3000 students there and so far not many cases of influenza and but one or two deaths. He says all the time examinations are being taken by students and every little while a number go away to an Officers' Training camp. He says good work is being done at the great educational center and conditions generally are good.

A vote for Capt. Swales will mean that the veterans of Morgan county will get a square deal on the monument proposition, and that they will be recognized and consulted in all matters pertaining to its construction and dedication.

A SAD EXPERIENCE

Charles Gunn is a traveling salesman for Swift and Co. and has been down a while with the flu but was able to start out a few days ago. He visited a place and called for a customer and found the man was dead; another had been buried the day before; the third died the week before; the fourth was to be buried the next day and the fifth was at the point of death. All were rather young men and well known in business circles.

RALPH A. BRIGGS DIED EARLY THIS MORNING

Succumbed to an Attack of Pneumonia at Home of Father in Beardstown at 1:50 o'clock—Wife Died Only a Few Weeks Ago.

Ralph A. Briggs died at the home of his father in Beardstown at 1:50 o'clock this (Sunday) morning of pneumonia following an attack of influenza.

Deceased was stricken about two weeks ago and was in such a weakened condition that he could not rally when pneumonia developed.

Ralph A. Briggs was the son of John C. and Kate D. Briggs and was born in Beardstown February 3, 1893 and most of his life was spent in that city. His mother preceded him in death. He is survived by his baby daughter Katherine, his father and the following sisters: Mrs. Jennie Pritchett, Mrs. J. M. Brown, Mrs. Anna Fritz and Mrs. Harry Bell of Beardstown and Mrs. Kate Hakes of Pekin.

January 17, 1916, he was united in marriage to Miss Eunice Harvey of this city. His wife died suddenly about six weeks ago and about three weeks ago his father-in-law, James F. Harvey passed away. Grief at the death of his wife so sapped his strength that he was an easy prey to pneumonia.

Mr. Briggs learned the trade of printing and was an excellent linotype operator as well as a good hand compositor. He became an employee of the Journal several years ago and was a member of the force when he was taken ill. He was a member of Jacksonville Typographical Union No. 356.

Mr. Briggs was a young man of much promise. He was faithful in his work and popular with his fellow workmen and employers. News of his untimely death will be received with sorrow by many friends.

The body will be brought here and buried beside that of his wife in Diamond Grove cemetery. The date of the funeral is not known at this time.

DR. WHEELER BUSY IN SPRINGFIELD

Dr. J. A. Wheeler, republican candidate for state senator, has not been able to call on Morgan county friends the past two weeks because of the influenza epidemic in Springfield. He has during these weeks devoted all of his time to the needy sick in Springfield hospitals, his services being available night and day, without expense to the sick. Health conditions in Springfield are now somewhat improved by comparison with the beginning of the epidemic.

DOING GOOD WORK.

Mrs. A. F. Nebold of 243 Prospect street, has left at the Journal office a copy of the Douglas Arizona Daily Internationalist, from which the following is taken, regarding her daughter.

"Out in the assay department of the Copper Queen smelter, at Douglas, Ariz., where hooded ventilators take the place of gas masks, Miss Grace Nebold former high school teacher is doing a man's work to help win the war."

"It is work that requires scientific training and endurance. Prior to the war, women were not considered qualified for it, but the emergency has enabled them to prove that they can deliver the goods."

"In Illinois Wesleyan University and Illinois college, where Miss Nebold received her education, she made chemistry her major study. She taught science in the local high school last year but it was not until this summer that she was able to carry out her ambition to engage in assay work. She says it beats school teaching."

"Garbed in the roughest clothes she can find because nitric acid quickly eats a skirt into shreds, Miss Nebold works on the electrolytic bench."

"An increasing number of women is being employed at the smelter, but so far Miss Nebold and Miss Lillian Frost are the only women employed in the assay department."

I suffered unbearable pains in my stomach for a long time. Took treatment of several physicians and was advised that an operation was necessary, which I had done; but instead of relief, I got worse, so that I was unable to work and could not eat or exercise without suffering intensely. I consulted Dr. C. W. Carson the Chicago specialist, and took a course of his treatment and was cured. For the last two years have worked every day and have almost forgotten that I ever had any trouble.
